TUC (GHANA) CONGRATULATES GEORGINA OPOKU AMANKWA

The Trades Union Congress (Ghana) extends its warmest congratulations and best wishes to Sister Georgina Opoku Amankwa, the immediate past Chairman, for assuming her new office as the Deputy Commissioner of the National Electoral Commission (NEC).

Gina, as she was affectionately called in the trade union fraternity, was a seasoned Trade Unionist who held several positions in the Union movement in Ghana prior to her election as the Chairperson of the TUC-Ghana and eventual calling as the Deputy Commissioner of the NEC.

She distinguished herself as a Trade Unionist right from the onset when she became a member of the Public Services Workers Union (PSWU) of the Trades Union Congress (Ghana) by virtue of her employment with the NCCE. Gina indeed stood out with her great services in the varied positions in the women's committees of both the PSWU and the TUC at the Regional levels.

TUC-Ghana however has no doubt that our sister's un-daunting spirit will carry her through this national assignment where she will again diligently offer her all, in the service of Mother Ghana. Having already mastered the Art of challenging prevailing status quo and standing up against the odds, the TUC firmly believes that Gina will rise to the occasion and shine even amidst her toughest opposition from her new work environment.

TUC-Ghana in particular and the union movement in Ghana in general, have lost the services of a special individual yet it is well worth a sacrifice to make for our dear nation, Ghana. We therefore congratulate you Gina and say "the Sky is only the Limit."

Yours Sincerely,

TRADES UNION CONGRESS (GHANA)

KOFI ASAMOAH
SECRETARY GENERAL
